Saved Her Life

The unqualified endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo in a recent letter from Mrs. S. Grindle, 5918 Mignonette St., Pittsburg, Pa., will be of interest to other sufferers from stomach and intestinal troubles. Mrs. Grindle says:

"The doctors had given me up, saying the only hope left was an operation. I tried Fruitola and passed hundreds of gall-stones with the first two bottles. Am now feeling better than I have for years past. I will be glad to tell any sufferer how it has helped me, for I owe my life to it."

Fruitola possesses properties that act directly upon the intestinal parts, softening the congested waste and disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and expels the accumulation to the great relief of the patient. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices, to aid digestion and revives bile from the general circulation. It serves to build up the weakened, run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Anderson they can be obtained at Evans' Pharmacy, Three Stores.

BUREAU OF MARKETING
ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Federal Department of Labor Will Apply Principle to Farm Labor.

Columbia, Dec. 20.—The principle of dealing directly with the individual as applied and employed by the South Carolina state bureau of marketing has so thoroughly attracted the attention of Secretary Wilson of the United States bureau of labor that that principle is to be applied to the distribution of farm labor and to the work of settling good people upon farm lands. The announcement has already been made officially following the conference in Charleston that South Carolina would be the first state in which the new cooperative system with the federal government in this work would be put into operation. Very soon after January 1 the United States government cooperative official will be stationed in the office of the bureau at Columbia and this far reaching expansion of the work of a state bureau will be entered upon with zeal. Already during the past year or more the bureau has placed many families and individuals in positions on the farm and has been instrumental, and in fact the direct means of settling good families upon idle lands. The new cooperative work, which promises so much for the future is to be shaped to handle men and families first within the borders of our own state and then to take cases from adjoining states and distant states. In a list today appears among the wants "Pension on farm by man who has farmed all his life." This is the kind of man that the new work is proposed to help. It is also designed to help such cases as the following: The writer dating his letter at Shanty Bay, Province of Ontario, Canada: "As I am thinking of coming south I take the liberty of writing you for information. Will you kindly advise me what part of South Carolina is best for gardening and poultry raising along with general farming, the crops to be shipped to New York and other cities for consumption. I am a farmer and gardener and understand it thoroughly. What would be the cost of a hundred acre farm, or are there any farms for rent with the privilege of buying it later? Or can I buy land and what are the prices and terms? I am an American citizen but have been in Canada for two years, but this last spring, from here last spring was on the 15th of June, and our day, this fall was on the 17th of August and you can grow very little in the fourth season. I am a married man with a family and am going where there is not so much cold weather. At present here we have 14 inches of snow on the ground with a temperature of 5 above zero."
